BAMS Theatre – General Audition Information

Commitment

Taking a show from the planning stage through to opening night takes a lot of hard work and dedication from everyone involved. As a member of the cast, you will be expected to commit to the show dates and rehearsal schedule. These schedules are carefully planned to ensure we maximise rehearsal time and are show-ready for opening. If you do not attend, it has a huge impact on the production team and fellow cast members. Therefore, it is essential that:

- If you have an important personal commitment on a rehearsal date, please advise the Director in advance.
- Be on time and ready to start at the beginning of each rehearsal.
- If you are running late or if an unexpected event, such as illness, prevents you from attending a rehearsal, you must notify the Director immediately.

BAMS' Membership

All cast members must become financial members of BAMS Theatre Inc. This ensures that you are covered under our insurance policy in the event of an accident during rehearsals and/or performances. A health and safety induction will be conducted at the start of every new production. Cast and crew must respect and adhere to all health and safety rules outlined by BAMS Theatre Inc and The Centre, Beaudesert. A completed membership form and payment must be received by the first rehearsal.
